CARMEN END THEIR CASE.

Testimony and Argument
Are Before Arbitrators.

United Railroads Begin Presentation of Evidence.

Uniona Resort to Claptrap to Bolster Contentions.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The case of the street carmen against the United Railroads was closed at today's session of the Arbitration Commission. Dr. A. R. Keenan testified that the work of the men was not as heavy as the union claimed. He also produced the reports of the Railroad Commission of New South Wales for the year 1932 and 1934, showing that the eight-hour day was feasible. Attorney Moore for the railroad company then began the cross examination of a witness.

SHEA LIKE DYNAMITE.

WOULD USE IT IN STRIKES.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

CHICAGO, Dec. 11.—Evidence was brought out in the Shea trial today that President Shea, during the strike of the teamsters last year, seriously considered the use of dynamite as a means of winning the strike.

LABOR BRIEFS.

HAMBURG, Dec. 11.—The shipping companies of Hamburg and Bremen have decided to no longer employ members of the Association of German Captains and Officers. This decision, the outcome of a long controversy, will probably destroy the association.

Want More Wages.

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Seventeen thousand members of the United Brotherhood of Carpenters in this city will demand an increase in wages from $4.50 to $5.00 a day. A conference for readjustment of the scale began yesterday.

Reinstating of Dingwall.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 11.—The District Court of Appeals today affirmed the decision of the Superior Court of this county reinstating George Dingwall, who was expelled from the membership roll of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees of America, some time ago, for conspiring against the welfare of the union, and R. Cornelius, its president, in particular.

Education Bill Now Doomed.

HOUSE AMENDMENTS ARE REJECTED EN BLOC.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

Decision of Cabinet Seals Fate of Measure, and Compromise Between Government and Nonconformists Is Deemed Hopeless—Blame Placed on House of Lords.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

LONDON, Dec. 11.—The unexpected decision of the Cabinet to reject en bloc the amendments to the education bill made in the House of Lords, which came as a complete surprise to most of the members of the House, and which indicates that the non-conformist influence was too strong for the government to withstand, seals the fate of the bill. Any compromise now is regarded as hopeless. The bill certainly will be dropped, and a new bill will be introduced at the next session of Parliament.

Parades Well Armed.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—The statement of Gen. Antonio Parades of Venezuela, Minister of War, that he had at his disposal 15,000 rifles for an insurrection against President Castro, received here today.

It was further stated that a part of these arms was obtained in New York by Gen. Parades on his recent visit here and that already 5000 rifles and 2,000,000 cartridges had been clandestinely landed in Venezuela.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

NEW YORK, Dec. 11.—Japanese immigration was bitterly denounced in a speech tonight by Representative Julius Kahn of San Francisco. Kahn was one of the speakers at a dinner of the New York Credit Men's Association, held at the Hotel St. Denis. His subject was "The Japanese Question, as Affecting San Francisco."

The people of the Pacific Coast, he said, were satisfied that the Japanese would always remain loyal to the United States, and the oath of naturalization would be to them a hollow mockery. Californians did not want that kind of citizenship, and did not intend to have it if they could prevent it.

MORE WORSENESS.

"The people of the Coast," he said, "had their experience with Chinese coolies, and now are threatened with another Oriental invasion still more serious, for the Japanese has all the vices of the Chinese, with none of their virtues."

The treaty between this country and Japan, he said, giving free entry to each country to the citizens of the other, was a bad deal, as labor conditions are so different in America and Japan that only the Japanese can be benefited by the international agreement. He defended the policy of segregation of Japanese in the public schools of California, and said that the people of his State would never permit their children to be thrown into close contact with adult Japanese.

JULIUS SPEAKS TRUE.

Kahn concluded by saying that the United States would not go to war with Japan.

He said in part:

"There is no State in the Union that is more loyal and more patriotic than is California, but let me say at the outset that Oriental and Occidental civilization will not mix."

"As early as 1852 we learned to know the Chinese coolie. By 1875 there were fully 50,000 Chinese coolies in California, and the yellow hordes kept pouring through the Golden Gate in increasing numbers. By 1878, California, from one end to the other, was ablaze with remonstrance, and just about that time, by the overwhelming vote of nearly 160,000 to about 600, as I remember the figures, the voters of California registered their opposition to the further influx of the Chinese coolie."

ABHORRED AND FEARED.

"And now, again, we are threatened with an Oriental invasion. Since the great disaster which overwhelmed the city of San Francisco, last April, Japanese laborers to the number of practically a thousand a month have been swarming through the Golden Gate, and I think that I am not stating the facts too strongly when I say that the people of California regard these Japanese coolies with greater abhorrence, awe, even with greater fear than they did the coolies from China.

"We feel that the former have all the vices of the Chinese, with none of their virtues. In business, they are absolutely devoid of the stern sense of honor of the Chinaman. The latter lives up to the letter of his obligation while the Japanese never hesitates to break that obligation if it suits his purpose to do so."

CAN DO THINGS.

"The Japanese coolie who comes to California for the most part is not an unskilled laborer. He is a shoemaker, tailor, gardener, cook, waiter, or one of the other of a dozen classes of workmen, as the case may be. He can and does live just as cheaply as the Chinaman. A handful of rice, a little dried fish, and a cup of tea make a frugal meal for him. And we feel convinced that if he is allowed to come to these shores in undiminished numbers, he will, ultimately drive out all Caucasian competition in every occupation into which he enters, just as the Chinese coolie did, a quarter of a century ago."

"It is such conditions that ultimately lead to bloodshed and race riot. We want by all means to avoid anything of that kind. We are peaceable law-abiding citizens, but we want the Japanese coolie to keep out of our State."

"There will be no war as the result of the action of the San Francisco Board. The good sense of both the countries will prevail in the matter."

FRESNO IS JOYOUS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

FRESNO, Dec. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The heavy rain of the last few days is very welcome in the San Joaquin Valley. The long dry fall had reduced the pastures to a very narrow margin, the stockmen rejoice in the starting of the grass. Although it has been fairly heavy there seems to be no danger of any serious results, there being almost no snow fall in the mountains as yet.

Fruit men will welcome a clear spell to permit the spraying of trees before the first of the year. Ample preparation has been made in the hot country of the King's River to prevent any such floods as occurred last winter, extensive work leveling having been carried on during the fall.

This is an extract from a letter written August 7, 1905, by Thomas G. Garrett, clerk of the Senate Subcommittee on Foreign Relations, to Col. Henry J. Kowalsky, chief of the lobby established in Washington by King Leopold of Belgium to prevent action by the United States government tending to end the horrible atrocities in the Congo Free State.

Thousands of Men and Women Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect It

Swamp-Root

To Prove What the Great Kidney Remedy, Swamp-Root, Will Do for YOU, Every Reader of The Times May Have a Sample Bottle Sent Absolutely Free by Mail

Swamp-Root

If you are sick or "feel badly," begin taking the great kidney remedy, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, because as soon as your kidneys begin to get better they will help all the other organs to health. A trial will convince anyone.

Swamp-Root

Didn't Know I Had Kidney Trouble

Swamp-Root

"I was out of health and run down generally; had no appetite, was dizzy and nervous, and in the morning I did not know that my kidneys were the cause of my trouble. But somehow I got to know that I had kidney trouble, and I began taking Swamp-Root. Three or four bottles did the trick. I feel like a new man, and I am able to do my work as usual. I am glad to say that I am now feeling better than I have for many years. I am sure that Swamp-Root is the best kidney remedy I have ever used. I have recommended it to all my friends, and I shall continue to do so."

Swamp-Root

Weak and unhealthy kidneys are responsible for many kinds of diseases, and if permitted to continue, much suffering and many fatalities are sure to follow. Kidney trouble irritates the nerves, makes you dizzy, restless, sleepless and irritable. Makes you pass water often during the day and obliges you to get up many times during the night. Unhealthy kidneys cause rheumatism, gravel, catarrh or the bladder, pain or dull ache in the back, joints or muscles; make your head ache and back ache, cause indigestion, and if you have liver trouble, you get a yellow, yellow complexion. You may have plenty of ambition, but no strength, set weak and waste away.

Swamp-Root

To overcome these troubles take Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the world-famous kidney remedy. In taking Swamp-Root you afford natural help to Nature, for Swamp-Root is the most perfect kidney and gentle aid to the kidneys that has yet been discovered.

Swamp-Root

How to Find Out

If there is any doubt in your mind as to your condition, take from your urine on rising about ten o'clock, place it in a glass bottle and let it stand twenty-four hours. If on examination it is milky or cloudy, if there is a brick-dust settling, or if small particles float about in it, your kidneys are in need of attention. Swamp-Root is in need of attention. Swamp-Root is a book of valuable information, both sent absolutely free. The book contains many of the thousands upon thousands of cures of men and women who have found Swamp-Root to be the best kidney remedy. The value and success of Swamp-Root are so well known that it is not necessary to send for a sample bottle.

Swamp-Root

In writing to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Birmingham, N. Y., send this advertisement in the Los Angeles Daily Times, and one-dollar size bottles at the drug stores everywhere, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, on every bottle.

MEMPHIS, (Tenn.) Dec. 11.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Admitting forgeries amounting to $12,000, and which his friends say reach double the amount, Dan R. Brown, for years a prominent attorney, gave himself up today and was held in jail.

Not since the Dougherty exposure has a city been so shaken. Brown, who is a son of Gen. Green B. Raum, former commissioner, unqualifiedly admits his guilt. Speculation, he says, at the expenses of keeping him in jail, in the social and business world, and his undoing.

With his own money, he is said also have lost in less than two years, $100,000 of his wife's money.

Troops and Constabulary Win Out. Fight on Isle of Leyte, Leaving an Important Bandit Chief at Large—Forty-three of Band Meet with Gen. Wood Confident.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

MANILA, Dec. 11.—Full reports from the island of Leyte show that the fight between troops and bandits, and a band of Pulajanes, an important victory for the government. Four Pulajane leaders were killed, leaving only one important bandit still at large. The bandits lost some 100 men. Wood has ordered the troops of the Seventh Cavalry to complete in the active pursuit of the bandits.

those who escaped, which is now in progress. Those wounded in the encounter are improving.

Both the military and civil authorities predict an early cessation of the present trouble, and Gov.-Gen. Smith regards the end of Pulajaneism in Leyte assured.

The campaign in Samar is progressing in a manner satisfactory to the government. Three or four rebellious bands have been dispersed, their leaders being either killed or captured.

Gen. Wood believes that the insurgent problem in Samar has been solved, but thinks that there may be several more small engagements in Leyte before the trouble is finally settled.

SEN. FLINT TAKES UP BREAK OF THE COLORADO.

Urges State Department to Ask Mexico to Make Repairs—Southern Pacific Announces That It Will Go Ahead and Build an Extensive System of Dykes.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Dec. 11.—Senator Flint of California today called at the State Department to make representations concerning the Salton sea in the Colorado River desert, and to request the department to make a demand on the Mexican government immediately to repair the damage that has been done at the outlet of the Imperial canal. While watering lands in California, that canal is taken out of the Colorado River on the Mexico side of the international boundary line, and the Senator takes the position that the break in the river bank is due to the failure of the Mexican government to exercise proper supervision over the construction of the canal. He was accompanied by Director Walcott of the Geological Survey, who also took the position that the Mexican government should be held responsible for the damage done. Their interview was with Assistant Secretary Bacon, who promised to communicate with the American Ambassador to Mexico. Senator Flint called special attention to the fact that there has recently been a new break in the canal, and that apparently the damage has gone beyond the possibility of repair by the people interested. It is reported that from 50 to 90 per cent of the water in the river is again leaving the channel, and that unless this could be turned back, there would be losses to property amounting to millions of dollars.

ESPEE GOING AHEAD.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS-A.M.]

IMPERIAL, Dec. 11.—The announcement has just been received that the Southern Pacific will begin immediately the work of closing the breach of the Colorado River. Since the close of the break a month ago there is no doubt of ability to shut out the water. The weakness shown heretofore has been in the system of dykes.

TRY TO BEAT MISCHIEF II.

Fulton Builds Freak Yacht of Doubtful Design.

Joe Fellows Plans Boats to Win Contests.

Racing Here of Higher Class Than in Frisco.

Yachtsmen are interested in the new attempts to beat Walter Fulton's Mischief II, which got away with the Thomas Lipton's Pacific cup in the San Diego series last season, and also won in all the local races except the Times cup and the eighty-mile contest around Catalina Island. Charles E. Fulton is building a craft at Terminal which is expected by her designer to lower the Mischief's colors in the coming season.

This craft is now in frame and ready for her planking. She measures forty-six feet from transom to stern, and her intended water line is, therefore, twenty-two feet, eight inches. Exceeding a fraction, her over-all length is therefore, double her water line, which means that she carries as much length in the air as floats in the water. Her beam is eleven feet, and her bilges are sufficiently hard for good sailing.

This beam is carried aft with but little reduction to her broad sternboard, after the manner of many of the fastest Massachusetts racing machines. The keel draws six and a half feet of water with its lead casting weighing 4355 pounds. The oak frames are spaced ten inches on center, and the cabin is nine feet long, there being a large cockpit aft. Twelve hundred square feet of sail will first of ballast. This time last year Wedgewood put about the same amount in his keel casting. He also thought that the natural power of his vessel's shape could do without the ballasting which all the best designers have found necessary. When sailed, his boat would not stand up to her work, and he had to fill up with inside ballast. With two and a half times more ballast, the new boat will be in line with the hundreds of proofs of the most noted designers, and in that condition she should be able to give her peculiar shape a fair trial.

Another proposal to beat Mischief II is being made by her own designer, Joe Fellows. He has made an offer to three persons that if they will build one of his latest designs he will haul the boat out and prepare her for every race free of charge, and also train the crew and personally command the yacht in her contests. This offer is being considered.

The new craft will have a narrower beam than Mischief II, and a generous displacement, with a markedly flat floor, being somewhat lighter in the ballast casting. The Mischief II now carries 4500 pounds of lead, having added part of this since her first trials. The Gardner design Monsoon, owned by Joe Pugh, started with about 3550 pounds, and subsequently added about 250 pounds, making her present total 3800 pounds. When steered in either rough or smooth water, the Mischief feels under the tiller to be exactly right in her ballasting, and when the lead in the Fulton boat is compared with that of Monsoon and Mischief, the enormous difference cannot escape comment.

The second design on which Joe Fellows will build for first honors is beamier than Mischief and will have a center section with the sides almost entirely flat, like the letter Y, with the fork top widened out. The boat is designed to sail on her side, but to have great supporting power when she lies down quickly and easily on her rail. Here the extreme beam is greatly in excess of the water line beam, and there is a total absence of rounded bilge, which enables this shape to

ATTELL ONLY REAL CHAMP.

No Other Fighter Holds a Title so Secure.

Jeffries Best in His Class, but Is Retired.

Victory by Foul Does Not Show Superiority.

Abe Attell is the only legitimate champion of his class in the world, all things considered. The remainder of the pugilistic titles are shrouded in uncertainty and in the case of none other than the featherweight class is there an active champion who stands out as the superior of all others of his own weight.

The statement may be a broad one to make, but nevertheless it appears true. There are no exceptions for reasons which are described herein after. In the heavyweight class Jim Jeffries is the peer of all others, but he has retired, and so long as he is in retirement his name must be eliminated from the list of active champions. The discussion as to who is the real heavyweight champion, with Jeffries out of it, has been too exhaustive to require recapitulation. Suffice it to say that both Burns and O'Brien are considered only through surferance, because there are no others. It is no disparagement to either of them to say so, for they are outclassed in weight. There is little doubt but that Jeffries could whip both of them in the same ring, taking them on in alternate rounds or consecutively. The first good heavyweight of real size and caliber to come to the fore will whip each of them by their strength and poundage. Were Jack Johnson forced to do his best, probably he

Mrs. H. G. Williamson, 3411 Marshall Ave., Chicago, Ill., writes: "I was shopping in a very warm store and became greatly heated, then rode home on the front of a car in the damp night air and caught a severe cold. This settled in my throat, caused a hacking cough, tickling and soreness of throat and I could not speak for hoarseness. I did nothing for it until four days had passed when I became alarmed. My husband bought a 25c. bottle of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup. I took the syrup as directed and received immediate relief. I used the bottle and it checked the tickling, hacking cough, and one more bottle cured me entirely."

be given her, but her designer says she probably will be given more when she has been tested with the first suit. Mr. Fulton, who is a member of the South Coast Yacht Club, says that he built a boat of the same design at San Francisco, which was a great success. But the gauge of a boat's success is the measure of her company, and the probabilities are that the new craft will have to meet one or two vessels in this neighborhood which are faster than anything San Francisco ever saw.

The many interested yachtsmen who have visited the Fulton yards have noticed the curious fat spot in the bottom, which is under and aft of the mast. The idea in this, as explained by the designer, is to keep the forward overhang clear of the water for a long distance aft, and thus get a short water-line measurement. While this is an advantage in beating the present measurement rule, the disadvantage is not continued in practical and all-round sailing. That is to say, the boats in which the same idea appeared, as far back as 1896, have not been successful. Yet in boats, sometimes a seeming fault in one spot is neutralized by other superiorities.

The effect of this shape is to make a sudden descent into a central body that has to be lumpy to give an airfoil to the huge superstructure. In this way there is a bad drag and obstruction where the lines are unbalanced. After losing the city of Toledo cup to the Canada, the Vencador of Chicago was brought to New York and had all kinds of money spent on her, but she pushed water in the wrong place, and she finally returned to Chicago, remaining, as she always was, a failure. Many of the Seawanhauk cup trial boats failed in the same idea, yet Mr. Fulton may succeed in his experiment. But not with only 1535 pounds make wonderful sailing in catapaw weather. It was all tried out in the centerboard boats of thirty years ago, when the Restless and the Sphinx were unapproachable on the Great Lakes, but since the very heavy keel ballasting came in, the virtues of this shape have not been tried in the exaggerated form now proposed. Either of these designs would have a good chance of beating the Polson boat, the straight-sided one in light days, and the other on days when an up and down fight with hard water makes special requirements in shape.

HALL GOING HOME.

New Owner of Seattle Team Intends to Organize Company to Carry the Siwash Through.

Russ Hall, the owner-manager of the Seattle team of the Pacific Coast League, will leave for home this morning for the purpose of organizing a company to back the Siwash this season. He thinks his team has as good a chance to win the pennant next year as any team in the league, but he does not believe that he has the money to back the team through a season. could do the trick. In the old days neither man would be a match for Fitzsimmons, Corbett, McCoy, Sharkey, or perhaps even old Gus Ruhlin, who once was a good fighter.

The middleweight title is not actively held by anyone. Tommy Ryan is the legitimate holder, but he has not defended it for years. Jack O'Brien has outgrown the class. Hugo Kelly seems to be the most likely man for the honor, but he fights at 158, which weight has never been designated legitimately as the middleweight limit for 154 pounds was he defeated by a big man. As Burns and O'Brien have fought to a draw, with Tommy having the advantage, O'Brien's title is not clear by any means. Fitz had a fight or two for the title, but did not whip all the good clinicians.

Joe Walcott once was the welterweight champion. Since his injury he has not been the same man. Melody has beaten him in decisions. Joe Thomas has taken a decision from Melody. It would appear, therefore, that Thomas is champion, but Melody has his excuses for being beaten, and as the latter takes the title from Walcott after he defeated Melody, Thomas's claim cannot be clear.

Joe Gans is considered the lightweight champion, but it is his title through winning by a foul over Nelson, the honor is none too secure. A title won through a foul does not

FLOOR SPACE IS ALL SOLD.

Auto Show Promises Great Things for Trade.

Many New Garages and Sales Depots Opened.

First Foreign Car Imported to Los Angeles.

The space for the automobile show, held in Morley's Grand-avenue, January 21 to 23, inclusive, has been taken and the forty-five automobiles already are planned for the exhibit. A uniform rate of cents per square foot is charged in most cases has already been set, though some isolated ones were going at 30 cents a foot early in the month.

The allotting of space the Maxwell Motor Company picked out a section of the space. This cost the firm $1000.

Probably the largest space taken was by the Western Motor Car Company, which will show the Packard, Buick and the four models of the Stevens-Duryet, twelve cars in their space, with the decorations, cost them nearly $2000.

As an idea of the number of cars to be exhibited by the local trade, which individually and collectively control the trade of the south-west and in some cases the whole coast, one can see from the agencies. There are twenty-six exclusive dealers, each of which will exhibit at least two cars. That will be fifty-two cars. In there are ten agencies selling two cars, while three agencies sell three cars, that means eighteen more; and two houses selling four different cars, at least ten models will show, while twelve cars from the people are being brought to the show, and it can be said safely that at least a score more than that number of cars will be shown. But automobile show is not the attraction at the show, and five surprise prizes will be taken part and some other concerns connected with the automobile show.

The automobile show will begin on Monday, January 21, and last till the 23rd. The admission is free, and if the expected number of persons attend the automobile show association should not come out.

THE DETROIT THOMAS. The Detroit Thomas has been in the show, this week, by the motor fans who have stood the careful scrutiny of the show. The general lines and engine show a great similarity to the four-cylinder four-cylinder car, which have their origin in the 1908 "Mercedes" Oldsmobile wonder.

Mr. Coffin, who made the 1906 model, and other heads of the department in the big Aids factory, drew the Detroit Thomas works and in their masterpiece.

The chief aim of the Detroit Thomas factory was to reach two cars in each class, and yet to have one car in each class, figure out the lowest cost with the best work and workmanship. It is the "everything" of the Detroit Thomas, and it is the best work of the Detroit Thomas.

The week points of the 1906 model, away with in both the Detroit and the 1907 Oldsmobile. Each car has made a big improvement in the sellers of both classes, and in the honor of doing the best work.

The Detroit Thomas is a credit to the man, James Speed, who was first to discover why the Detroit Thomas would not cool right.

Similar troubles occurred in the American cars shipped to this market. Speed made the corrections in the makers of the American cars, and he was glad to see Mr. Coffin's idea, so Jimmie Speed went to build the 1907 engine for them.

He also makes the Oldsmobile and the Detroit Thomas, which are using the Speed-Coffin engine. In the bottom of the car, as used by Mr. Speed, not used in the American engine. ## WORKING OLD TOTEM TRICK.

THE IRON MOLDERS' UNION'S JAWSMITHS BUSY.

Advertising in a Newspaper That Wages Are Low Here and That Many Men Are Out of Employment—Investigation Proves Both Statements Utterly False.

Dishonest tactics of labor-union bosses are responsible for another attempt to prevent willing workers from coming to Los Angeles, where employment in every line is plentiful and the scale of wages is high. The latest effort to boycott the city is chargeable to the Iron Molders' Union, which, through the columns of the Examiner, "orders" all molders and core-makers to "stay clear of Los Angeles," on the representation that "wages are low" and men are "out of work."

The facts are that wages are high in the iron workers' field and the demand for men is good. There is room for every skilled workman who applies for it, but, as always is the case, there doesn't happen to be much attraction in this city of the open shop for the kind of man who works principally with his jaw.

This is the way the Iron Molders' Union would have outside workmen view the situation in Los Angeles.

All molders, core-makers to stay clear of Los Angeles, Cal. Wages here are low, $1.75 per day, and others out of work. By order of I.M.U. No. 374.

Thus the walking delegates are advertising in face of the fact that molders are receiving almost double the amount stated in the "order."

At the Baker Iron Works, for instance, molders are paid 27¢ cents an hour for a nine-hour day, or a total of $2.43 a day. Not only are the molders paid this scale, but many core-makers receive the same wages.

Even the helper of the Baker Iron Works is paid far more than the labor-union "order" states is paid to molders. No helper of the Baker Iron Works receives less than $2.25 a day, and some receive $2.50 and more, according to experience.

Similar conditions prevail at other iron works in Los Angeles, none of which knows of any complaint on the part of its unfettered workmen.

But the jawsmiths, forsooth, do not wish the true conditions to be known. They are working the same old totem boycott trick to strengthen their very weak hold here, but no one has heard that it is keeping any worthy men from coming here.

ALLEGED SWINDLER COMING.

Detective Robert H. Roberts from Oakland Has Charged With Issuing Fictitious Pay Checks.

Falling to convict a man giving the name of Hattell in the Oakland Police Court, Monday, of the charge of passing fictitious checks, a charge similar to that preferred against him here. The local charge failed to hold, owing to lack of evidence. Detective Roberts said there is a strong case against the man in the South. The case of forgery was won here, as Hattell is said to have signed "J. Seelye," instead of "C. M. Seelye," as the name of the telephone company's manager. The two will start South tomorrow morning.

MAD BULL TERRORIZES.

Furious Brute at Fredericks, Near Venice, Is Thriving for Blood.

Shot on Sight Authorized.

VENICE, Dec. 11.—An infuriated bull is terrorizing residents in the vicinity of Fredericks, a station just east of here, along the line of the Los Angeles-Pacific. The animal has been charging everything in sight, but fortunately has not succeeded in injuring any one, although Mrs. L. Hame, barely escaped with her life by darting into her home, with the animal in pursuit of her. City Marshal Watt has issued orders to shoot the bull on sight, and a constable is maintaining an armed guard on the lookout for the desperate beast. The bull vaults high board and barbed wire fences as if they were imaginary lines.

A postal inspector has just paid a visit to Venice, and as a result of his observations and investigation, the postoffice will not be moved. More room is needed, but this will be provided by the enlargement of the present quarters. There is additional space available, and this will be utilized in equipping the office for the convenient handling of the growing business.

The mass meeting that was called for tomorrow night to boost the hotel project and promote the publicity interests of Venice, has been indefinitely postponed, owing to the death of Dorsey Patton.

PASSENGER AGENT RESIGNS.

Frank L. Miller, district passenger agent of the Rock Island, has resigned to go into business for himself. Both Mr. Miller and Ben Coome, commercial agent of the road, are on their way to Chicago to attend the annual meeting of the traffic agents of the system. At this meeting Mr. Miller's successor will be appointed. It is believed in local railroad circles that J. L. Stanton, traveling passenger agent, is likely to be promoted to fill the vacancy in the district passenger agency.

FOR SOUTH MAIN.

The Main Street Improvement Association, organized on Wednesday for the purpose of helping and hastening the movement for the improvement of South Main street, will hold its second meeting tonight at No. 218 West Third street.

BLANKS AND WHITES ARRESTED.

Viola French and Birdie White, negroes, were arrested yesterday afternoon and booked on suspicion of G. Diaz and M. R. Remeron, their white companions, were arrested with them.

NORTHWEST ACREAGE BOUGHT.

Tract of Seventy Acres Within City Limits Said to Have Brought Ninety Thousand Dollars.

Smith & Deller report the sale of seventy acres 1000 feet north of Sunset boulevard, and adjoining Edendale on the southwest. The sale was made for W. R. Neill and associates, the buyers being a local syndicate. The consideration is said to be $90,000. This is said to be the last large tract of acreage inside the city limits in this direction. Charles O. Goodwin, has sold a manufacturing site, three lots in all, 150x140 feet, No. 2472 East Tenth street near Santa Fe avenue, J. O. Lussier to Janette Fullaway, for $4000.

For Mary E. Gephart to J. E. Rice, a house and two lots, 80x140 feet, No. 2416 East Eleventh street, $3000. L. Twindle to N. Ferguson lot 50x150 feet on West Fortieth street near Hollister, $1000.

J. Hall to J. N. Hewes lot 50x150 feet on West Twenty-third street near Mission avenue, for $1000.

STILL WORKS AT HIS TRADE.

THOUGH A PROSPECTIVE MILLIONAIRE, MAKES SADDLES.

Edward Corcoran, Who Stands Best Chance of Inheriting One Million Dollars Left by John Sullivan of Seattle, Sticks Diligently to His Humble Business in Dublin.

Mr. Way, whose home office is in the Majestic building, Detroit, Mich., was deaf for over 25 years, and during all this time felt his loneliness position extremely. He was cut off almost entirely from enjoying the society of his fellowmen. He could not attend public meetings, lectures or concerts. He could not enjoy a social conversation with his friends. He was handicapped in business, and saw far less able men forging ahead of him, because of his unfortunate infirmity. He could not even talk to his own family freely and easily as he would like to.

No one but those who are afflicted with deafness themselves can appreciate what Mr. Way suffered.

Mr. Way will be in Los Angeles at the Angeles Hotel until Dec. 15, inclusive. All who are deaf should be sure to call on him, as it will cost nothing to learn whether he can help you or not.

Take the elevator and the attendant will show you to Mr. Way's private.

PRACTICAL PHILANTHROPY.

A St. Louis Manufacturer Pays Children Wages That They May Stay in School.

N. O. Nelson, the St. Louis millionaire manufacturer and philanthropist, has made a proposition to the women's clubs of St. Louis to end child labor in that city and place every little worker in school. Mr. Nelson offers to pay half of the wages now received by every such child if the women will raise the money to pay the other half. Thus the children may receive their pay and go to school at the same time. The offer applies to all children who are obliged to work to assist in the support of their families.

Until the women can take some action on the matter, Mr. Nelson is paying the salaries of children in all the worthy cases which come under his notice. In the better half of the cases, he will accept a greater work for charity than if he gave the money direct.

For the last two months he has investigated every application made to the transit officers for permits under the law for children under 14 years to work in factories. He says he has found seven worthy cases. These children now go to school and call each week at Mr. Nelson's office and receive their pay just as if they were working for him.

THE DEAF ARE ALWAYS LONESOME

Why Be Deaf When This Remarkable Invention of Mr. Geo. P. Way Can Surely Help You.

No one appreciates the lonesome miserable existence of the deaf more than Mr. George P. Way, the well-known inventor of the Way Ear Drum, who is now in this city.

Mr. Way, whose home office is in the Majestic building, Detroit, Mich., was deaf for over 25 years, and during all this time felt his loneliness position extremely. Was San Fernando Ranchman Hounded to Suicide by Enemy?

Burning Story of Hatred, Violence and Mystery Develops About Death of Herbert on Morning Before Trial for Assault With Deadly Weapon—Mancar, Charged With Responsibility, Says Wife Did It.

“WILLIAM J. MANCAR hounded my husband to death. He persecuted Albert until the poor man committed suicide to escape.”—Statement by Mrs. Albert J. Herbert at San Fernando yesterday.

“I don’t believe that Albert Herbert committed suicide. His wife murdered him.”—Statement by William J. Mancar, whom Mrs. Herbert accuses.

The little town of San Fernando has turned out a burning story of hatred, violence and mystery.

It hangs upon the recent suicide of Albert J. Herbert, the poor ranchman who dramatically shot himself on the morning set for his examination on the criminal charge of assault with a deadly weapon.

His wife and sister now accuse William Mancar, the complaining witness in that case, with having hounded the man to suicide.

The story of persecution told by these two women has roused the whole community.

Yesterday Mancar broke a morose silence with a fearful retort. He boldly accused Mrs. Herbert of having murdered her husband.

FRIENDSHIP TURNS TO ENMITY.

Mancar and Herbert were formerly friends; the past summer their friendship turned to bitter enmity.

Mancar is a small, bellicose Englishman. Nearly every one in San Fernando agrees that he is very quarrelsome. He says himself that many people “have it in for him” in that town.

Herbert was an Iowa farmer, who came to San Fernando six or seven years ago. He had a crippled wife. Among other things, Mancar is accused of having kicked this crippled Mrs. Herbert.

Herbert rented a little house from Mancar on a back street of the town. Mancar repented of it, and tried to turn them out.

The fearful story of persecution by which Mancar is said to have forced the Herberts from their home was told yesterday by Mrs. May Lyman, who is a sister of the dead man.

Herbert’s widow is a listless woman; Mrs. Lyman is energetic. She has thrown down the gauntlet to Mancar.

PERSECUTION STORY.

This is her story:

“My brother, Mr. Herbert, was an employee of R. M. Toague, and in order to be near his work, moved into the shack said to belong to William J. Mancar, near the Ford ranch, in the east of August, 1905. Mr. Herbert paid Mr. Mancar $20 to start with, for the rent of said shack, and received a receipt.

“All went well for a few days; then suddenly Mr. Mancar, like a wild and marauding redbird, swooped down upon the peaceful, harmless Herbert family.

“Mr. Mancar first appeared upon the scene with a revolver and began shooting at the chickens, killing one under the house and wounding others.

“This was only the beginning of hostilities. Mr. Mancar poisoned the citron and placed it near the Herbert doorway, saying that he didn’t care if he poisoned the chickens, ducks or the whole d— Herbert family. Mr. Mancar next told Mr. Herbert that he would poison the Herberts by drinking water if they didn’t move within three days, but Mr. Herbert refused to leave his home.

“Here hostilities ceased for a week or two.

“One cold, dark night, when Mr. Herbert was in Los Angeles, and his son, Harry Mancar, a youth of sixteen, began bombarding the lights, fired from the shack and took refuge behind some blue gum trees.

“When the Constable, who had been notified by telephone from the Ford ranch, arrived upon the scene, he found the terrified family hiding behind the trees and conveyed them to his home. Then Mr. Mancar promised the Constable that he would cease hostilities.

PITCHING THEM OUT.

“Late in the afternoon of November 30, while Mr. Herbert was working in the nursery, and while Mrs. Herbert was busy with her work, Mancar, accompanied by his son, Harry, entered the back door of the shack.

“When Mrs. Herbert, who knew nothing of the presence of the men, entered the kitchen of her home, Mr. Mancar pushed her to the threshold and kicked her down the steps. Mrs. Herbert hastened to the nursery, and summoned her husband, and when he arrived, Mancar, his son, Harry, and the two Japs were pitching the Herberts’ household goods out.

“Mr. Herbert remonstrated and Mr. Mancar, with revolver in hand, cursed and threatened to kill him, while his son, Harry, stood behind his father with a revolver. After Mr. Mancar and his men had pitched the things from the shack, Mancar, who had taken the Ford ranch, arrived upon the scene, and placed under arrest, while his son and the Japs stayed to guard the house.

“As Fernando has no jail, Mancar was allowed to go free. Mr. Herbert guarded his household goods, and, being a very cold, chilly night, he received a very severe cold, which was partly the cause of his death.

“On Wednesday morning, November 28, Mr. Herbert, physically ill from exposure and mentally weak from the vile treatment and financial losses, entered the bedroom, pressed a revolver to his head, and fired the shot that ended his life.

WIDOW’S STORY.

After receiving this statement, a reporter of The Times called upon the widow. She was found in squalid surroundings in a little house in San Fernando, with the rent paid one day ahead. She is a dull, listless woman, with half-shut eyes, and work-worn, lined hands. She walks with painful, pitiful limp.

Two children—one small boy, with a curious impediment in his speech, and a half-grown girl, played about the porch.

NEW ARMORY FOR MILITIA?

Soldiers Want the State to Give Them Building.

Lease of Present Quarters Out Within a Year.

Legislators Hear Plans for Many Desired Laws.

Within a year the local branches of the National Guard of California will have to pitch tents in the streets or practically go out of the service unless the coming Legislature makes some provision for placing the militia in suitable quarters. The lease on the Armory at Eighth and Spring streets is about to expire and cannot be renewed with the funds available. No other suitable quarters can be found, although diligent search has been carried on for several months.

To overcome the difficulty, Brig. Gen. Robert Wankowski appeared before the Southern California members of the Legislature yesterday and asked them to use their efforts to secure an appropriation for the building of an armory in this city. He thought $100,000 would meet the local needs, covering the cost of a site and of an armory that would properly house the infantry, cavalry and Signal Corps and other branches of the service.

WANTS STONE ARMORY.

Gen. Wankowski’s arguments were supported by those of Capt. Frank C. Prescott, who pointed to the urgent needs of giving the militia a home of stone and iron that would be practically impregnable to attack. He called the attention of the legislators to the possibility of internal and external disturbances and to the fact that the National Guard now has no safe place in which to rally or to store its armament.

It was urged by Gen. Wankowski that San Francisco also needs an armory building, and that its claims, as well as those of Los Angeles, should have the consideration of the lawmakers at the earliest possible moment.

The lease on the present armory, which occupies the upper floor of the building at Eighth and Spring streets, was made nine years ago, and the rental paid is $12 a month. The lease cannot be renewed at its expiration next December for several times that amount, and probably not at all within the limit the State would allow, wherefore the need for prompt action if the militia, which now is in a high state of efficiency, is to maintain its standard.

WILLING TO HELP.

While the legislators would make no official declaration on the matter of an armory in Los Angeles, many of them expressed their willingness to work for an appropriation when the necessary bill is introduced at Sacramento.

This was but one of the numerous measures that were presented for the consideration of the lawmakers who are to leave in a few weeks for Sacramento for the biennial session. With a few exceptions all of the Senatorial and Assembly bills introduced by Barbara to San Diego were represented. The meeting was called to order.

BALLOTS BURY THE “KICKERS.”

GLENDALE HELD INCORPORATED BY HOT ELECTION.

Stand-Patters Pating Each Other on the Back and Saying “I Told You so,” and Improvements in the Foothill City Now to Be Pressed Forward.

Glendale is still a corporation. The loyal and indignant citizens of the little town marched to the polls yesterday with the determination to bury in their hands and overwhelmed beneath an avalanche of votes the hopes and aspirations of M. A. King and those who, with him, had sought to lead them back to a disincorporated, unattached, and pastoral existence.

Confident of victory, and tired out with the arduous campaign he had been waging, King retired at home early yesterday morning and came to Los Angeles, leaving his battle flags in the shape of handbills, proudly flaunting from every telegraph pole and dead wall in the little town. All day long he hung over the telephone awaiting the news of victory, but it came not. As the hour for closing the polls drew near he once more called for Glendale.

“Did I win?” he asked, every tone of his voice thrilling with the certainty of success.

“Well, not quite,” came back the answer. “If you had stayed at home and voted against yourself it would have made it unanimous.”

Out of a total registration of 325 voters, 278 turned out, cast their ballots in a box in the real estate office, and drank the soda-water fountain dry while waiting for the returns to be counted.

The results showed 224 votes against and 46 votes for disincorporation. It was a landslide for the stand-patters, and the frost that fell upon the disincorporators was so heavy that it fairly impeded the berry crop.

So it is that the city of Glendale, incorporated—say it with respect—is today the proudest municipality in all the San Fernando Valley.

A new down-and-out club was organized in Glendale last night. Its membership is forty-six, and M. A. King was unanimously chosen president. But the unappreciated reformer says his fellow-citizens are a lot of old fossils and have no progressive spirit about them. He says they are so far behind the times that if he were to run the postal cars of his Pasadena, Verdugo and San Fernando Valley Railway right through the town his neighbors would demand mule traction. It is a hopeless case, he says. But that does not seem to worry the Glendaleites much.

“Now that the uselessly expensive election is passed,” said J. C. Shorer, City Treasurer, last night, “Glendale will get down to the extensive plans for municipal improvements which we had under consideration when this unfortunate delay was sprung upon us by a handful of obstructionists. We will make this a little city to be proud of. I am sure we see such a people in favor of the existing form of government. If it is given a fair trial there is no doubt in my mind of its success. This you will find to be the sentiment of practically every man in Glendale who has any material interests in the town.”

The breasts of the citizens are thrilled with civic pride. Through the rain and the mud they paddled down to the soda-water fountain last night with broad grins asked each other: “Did you hear what we did to the kickers?”

The stand-patters stood about patting each other on the back and saying: “I told you so.”

STUDENT HIS OWN ROBBER.

Gags and Blinds Himself and Tells Thrilling Tale That Fails.

Bound and gagged, and with a flour sack drawn tightly over his head, Thomas K. Morris, a State Normal School student, was found in an old barn on Francisco street late at night. He told a thrilling story, declared he had been clubbed on the head by two desperadoes, bound, gagged and robbed.

His dramatic story was complete in almost every detail. He was certain the crime had been deliberately planned. He hinted that his assailants would not have stopped at murder to get the money—$30 belonging to the man he worked for, and $4 of his own. He gave close descriptions of the men.

“I saw them coming,” he said. “I thought they were robbers and I dodged behind the barn. Then one hit me and the next thing I knew a fellow with a mask on was going through me.”

Morris had no marks, no bump on his head, and no bruises on his face. The suspicions of Capt. Flinn were aroused. He did not believe the peculiar story. Morris was “swatted.” He broke down.

“I’ve lied,” he said. “I made up the whole story. After study hours I worked for A. C. Potter. I was sent to No. 546 Francisco street to collect $30 rent. I wanted to keep the money, so I made up the story of the robbery. I tied myself up.”

Young Morris is one of the ten male students of the Normal. He has been regarded highly by teachers and students, was quiet and well behaved, popular among the young women of the school, and a welcome guest at all social functions. He was allowed to go, but will be under police surveillance. He will make restitution of the money.

Lease of Present Quarters Out Within a Year.

Legislators Hear Plans for Many Desired Laws.

Within a year the local branches of the National Guard of California will have to pitch tents in the streets or practically go out of the service unless the coming Legislature makes some provision for placing the militia in suitable quarters. The lease on the Armory at Eighth and Spring streets is about to expire and cannot be renewed with the funds available. No other suitable quarters can be found, although diligent search has been carried on for several months.

To overcome the difficulty, Brig. Gen. Robert Wankowski appeared before the Southern California members of the Legislature yesterday and asked them to use their efforts to secure an appropriation for the building of an armory in this city. He thought $100,000 would meet the local needs, covering the cost of a site and of an armory that would properly house the infantry, cavalry and Signal Corps and other branches of the service.

WANTS STONE ARMORY.

Gen. Wankowski’s arguments were supported by those of Capt. Frank C. Prescott, who pointed to the urgent needs of giving the militia a home of stone and iron that would be practically impregnable to attack. He called the attention of the legislators to the possibility of internal and external disturbances and to the fact that the National Guard now has no safe place in which to rally or to store its armament.

It was urged by Gen. Wankowski that San Francisco also needs an armory building, and that its claims, as well as those of Los Angeles, should have the consideration of the lawmakers at the earliest possible moment.

The lease on the present armory, which occupies the upper floor of the building at Eighth and Spring streets, was made nine years ago, and the rental paid is $12 a month. The lease cannot be renewed at its expiration next December for several times that amount, and probably not at all within the limit the State would allow, wherefore the need for prompt action if the militia, which now is in a high state of efficiency, is to maintain its standard.

WILLING TO HELP.

While the legislators would make no official declaration on the matter of an armory in Los Angeles, many of them expressed their willingness to work for an appropriation when the necessary bill is introduced at Sacramento.

This was but one of the numerous measures that were presented for the consideration of the lawmakers who are to leave in a few weeks for Sacramento for the biennial session. With a few exceptions all of the Senatorial and Assembly bills introduced by Barbara to San Diego were represented. The meeting was called to order.

BALLOTS BURY THE “KICKERS.”

GLENDALÉ HELD INCORPORATED BY HOT ELECTION.

Stand-Patters Pating Each Other on the Back and Saying “I Told You so,” and Improvements in the Foothill City Now to Be Pressed Forward.

Glendale is still a corporation. The loyal and indignant citizens of the little town marched to the polls yesterday with the determination to bury in their hands and overwhelmed beneath an avalanche of votes the hopes and aspirations of M. A. King and those who, with him, had sought to lead them back to a disincorporated, unattached, and pastoral existence.

Confident of victory, and tired out with the arduous campaign he had been waging, King retired at home early yesterday morning and came to Los Angeles, leaving his battle flags in the shape of handbills, proudly flaunting from every telegraph pole and dead wall in the little town. All day long he hung over the telephone awaiting the news of victory, but it came not. As the hour for closing the polls drew near he once more called for Glendale.

“Did I win?” he asked, every tone of his voice thrilling with the certainty of success.

Out of a total registration of 325 voters, 278 turned out, cast their ballots in a box in the real estate office, and drank the soda-water fountain dry while waiting for the returns to be counted.

The results showed 224 votes against and 46 votes for disincorporation. It was a landslide for the stand-patters, and the frost that fell upon the disincorporators was so heavy that it fairly impeded the berry crop.

So it is that the city of Glendale, incorporated—say it with respect—is today the proudest municipality in all the San Fernando Valley.

A new down-and-out club was organized in Glendale last night. Its membership is forty-six, and M. A. King was unanimously chosen president. But the unappreciated reformer says his fellow-citizens are a lot of old fossils and have no progressive spirit about them. He says they are so far behind the times that if he were to run the postal cars of his Pasadena, Verdugo and San Fernando Valley Railway right through the town his neighbors would demand mule traction. It is a hopeless case, he says. But that does not seem to worry the Glendaleites much.

“Now that the uselessly expensive election is passed,” said J. C. Shorer, City Treasurer, last night, “Glendale will get down to the extensive plans for municipal improvements which we had under consideration when this unfortunate delay was sprung upon us by a handful of obstructionists. We will make this a little city to be proud of. I am sure we see such a people in favor of the existing form of government. If it is given a fair trial there is no doubt in my mind of its success. This you will find to be the sentiment of practically every man in Glendale who has any material interests in the town.”

The breasts of the citizens are thrilled with civic pride. Through the rain and the mud they paddled down to the soda-water fountain last night with broad grins asked each other: “Did you hear what we did to the kickers?”

The stand-patters stood about patting each other on the back and saying: “I told you so.”

There is no home complete without music. An instrument that can be played by anyone in the family is surely the one you want. Nothing is beyond its capabilities. The compositions of the old masters, the scores of all the standard operas both old and new. The latest compositions, songs, marches, two-steps, etc., are all played as easily as one could imagine with the wonderful player piano.

Wilson was taken back to the County Jail and will be again brought to trial. In a few days Mrs. Wilson will have her trial in the same court on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon, she having fired a couple of shots at Belden about five days before her husband is alleged to have killed him. Mrs. Wilson confessed on the witness stand that she had fired the shots, and her defense will be justification.

Have Bad Record, Must Answer to Superior Court—Attorney Wynn Will Appear for Preliminary Examination on Embezzlement Charge.

"Dan" P. Sullivan, the "gentleman burglar," was yesterday held to answer to the Superior Court on a $1500 bond. The prisoner is believed to be one of the most desperate criminals recently captured. When he appeared in court yesterday he was confronted with five burglary charges. He was held on two counts.

His method of robbery was unique. From the room of Henry B. Clark, No. 228 San Pedro street, Sullivan took everything he could conveniently carry away. He was considerate, however, of the feelings of his victim and took only what he needed.

The polite burglar is a young man in the early twenties. He is just the kind of fellow silly women rave over. He has black hair and dreamy eyes, and had a far-away look as if he was thinking of anything but the court proceedings. His expression did not change during his preliminary examination, and when asked if he desired to enter a plea in his own behalf, merely shook his head.

This calm young man was shown to have committed several clever "jobs." He just could not resist taking every thing of value that he saw, and it is claimed that he entered a Japanese rooming-house and cleaned out the place.

There was evidence enough to con-

net Sullivan with two robberies and it was not found necessary to issue warrants for the other offenses with which he is charged.

According to the police, Sullivan has a record such as few men can boast. He is said to have been connected with several large burglaries in San Francisco. He recently came here from that city. He is also well known in Portland.

Attorney in Trouble

Carlyle Wynn, the attorney who was arrested on a warrant sworn by Mrs. Lelia Wheeler, and who is charged with embezzlement, will be given a preliminary examination Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The case is interesting the legal profession and several well-known lawyers express a belief in his innocence.

Wynn appeared in the Police Court yesterday only long enough for the Wynn explains that he intended to give the woman the whole amount but did not have all the money with him when he met her on the street. Wynn is said to be in comfortable financial circumstances.

Beggars Jailed.
J. H. Bruce and J. T. Burke, who were convicted of begging on the streets, were sentenced yesterday by Justice Chambers, the former to thirty and the latter to sixty days in the City Jail.

---

Drink Causes Downfall.
W. H. Walker, a butcher, who was employed by S. T. Stagg of No. 150

West seventh street, appeared in court on sentence before Justice Chambers yesterday. He had previously confessed to taking small sums of money from Stagg.

Drink has been the cause of the downfall of the young man who declared to the court that his imprisonment, if known to his mother, would almost break her heart.

The bus was disposed to regard the offense of Walker seriously. Though the young man made a plea showed that he had offended many times. He was sentenced to sixty days in the City Jail, with the alternative of paying a fine of $60.

Ring Tempts.

E. Ballesterio could not resist the glitter of a tray of cheap rings which he saw on the counter of a second hand jewelry store on East First street. He took one of the rings and slipped it on his finger. The proprietor's wife saw the act, grabbed him by the coat tails and cried lustily for the police. Ballesterio was arrested.

When tried before Justice Austin yesterday the prisoner protested his innocence. He cannot speak English well, but tried to tell the court he had not taken the ring. He was sentenced to fifty days in jail.

Forty Days for Messenger.
Irwin Hughes, an American District Messenger boy, who was charged with embezzlement, was given a forty days sentence yesterday by Justice Chambers. Hughes was convicted of having misappropriated $10.50.

open and no person within. I put the furniture out when I got well started
I saw Mrs. Herbert through the win-possession.

"She notified Herbert. When he arrived it was all over. He quietly asked me for his money. I told him I was within the law; if he thought differ-ently, he could consult a lawyer."
"He didn't stay a minute, but left for the court, charging me with using a gun and ill using his wife. It was all over within thirty minutes. No person showed any opposition; there was no word, no person gave me any reason to use a gun or do them any harm.
I did not use a gun or attack Mrs.
Herbert, the charge is false, and I
made for the purpose of getting me
away that they might move back into
the house while I was under arrest.
However, the place was so guarded
that they could not get back.
"Herbert's brother-in-law, advised him not to arbitrate, and furnished him with firearms.
"I found in one room a club, in another a rifle. In the third a loaded revolver with plenty of extra shells; in the fourth a revolver to keep it from Herbert. It was intended by these meddlesome people to have blood shed.
"When the rifle was found it was
hid for two days. I turned the loaded revolver over to the Constable, and
advised him to keep it from Herbert.
It was returned to Herbert, and with
it he took his life.
"Herbert has had an unhappy home
for years; this and his failure to get his wife into court and perjure herself to convict me on a charge she knew to be false, caused him much worry.
"And there you are. Who's going to prove anything?"

ANOTHER CONVENT.

Polish Catholics May Have Institution
Especially for Work Among
Their People.

Los Angeles may soon be made the
headquarters of another religious work
of importance—the Society of the Fi-vine Savior, which has its particular field in labor among Polish Catholics.
It is said that the outlook is very favorable for the assembling in this city of the executive headquarters of a convent and parochial school for
Polish children; and Rev. Victorius
Organicki, who came to Los Angeles
to labor among the Poles at the invitation of Bishop Conaty, at the deavoring to secure the transfer of the administration of the solicitation from Pe-Ed, Wash., to Los Angeles.
If this is accomplished, it will mean
the erection of another large Catholic institution in the city or vicinity.
The Polish Catholics now hold regular services in the Cathedral Hall, on South Los Angeles street, and the attendance is so great that the hall is crowded.
They combined last week in sending a cablegram of congratulation to the General Superior of the Society of the Divine Savior, whose residence is in Rome, upon the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order.

I saw Mrs. Herbert through the window. I informed her I was taking possession.
"She notified Herbert. When he arrived it was all over. He quietly asked me for his money. I told him I was
within the law; if he thought differ-ently, he could consult a lawyer."
"He didn't stay a minute, but left
for the court, charging me with using a gun and ill using his wife. It was all over within thirty minutes. No person showed any opposition; there was
no word, no person gave me any reason to use a gun or do them any harm.
I did not use a gun or attack Mrs.
Herbert, the charge is false, and I
made for the purpose of getting me
away that they might move back into
the house while I was under arrest.
However, the place was so guarded
that they could not get back.
"Herbert's brother-in-law, advised him not to arbitrate, and
furnished him with firearms.
"I found in one room a club, in another a rifle. In the third a loaded revolver with plenty of extra shells; in
the fourth a revolver to keep it from Herbert. It was intended by these
meddlesome people to have blood
shed.
"When the rifle was found it was
hid for two days. I turned the loaded revolver over to the Constable, and
advised him to keep it from Herbert.
It was returned to Herbert, and with
it he took his life.
"Herbert has had an unhappy home
for years; this and his failure to get
his wife into court and perjure herself to convict me on a charge she knew to be false, caused him much
worry.
"And there you are. Who's going to
prove anything?"

ANOTHER CONVENT.

Polish Catholics May Have Institution
Especially for Work Among
Their People.

Los Angeles may soon be made the
headquarters of another religious work
of importance—the Society of the Fi-
vine Savior, which has its particular
field in labor among Polish Catholics.
It is said that the outlook is very
favorable for the assembling in this city of the executive headquarters of a convent and parochial school for
Polish children; and Rev. Victorius
Organicki, who came to Los Angeles
to labor among the Poles at the invitation of Bishop Conaty, at the deavoring to secure the transfer of the
administration of the solicitation from Pe-Ed, Wash., to Los Angeles.
If this is accomplished, it will mean
the erection of another large Catholic
institution in the city or vicinity.
The Polish Catholics now hold regular services in the Cathedral Hall, on South Los Angeles street, and the attendance is so great that the hall is
crowded.
They combined last week in sending
a cablegram of congratulation to the General Superior of the Society of the Divine Savior, whose residence is in Rome, upon the celebration of the twenty-fifth anniversary of the founding of the order.

LOVERS STAY IN JAIL.

Prison Bars Separate Miss Estelle Cunningham and Harry Holly,
the Elopers.

Miss Estelle Cunningham, the beautiful Oakland girl who eloped with Harry Holly, a "sheet writer" at the Oakland race track, must remain in jail. As told in The Times, the two were taken in custody immediately on their arrival in this city. The girl and her sweetheart will be held pending the arrival of officers from Oakland.
To the police matron Miss Cunningham declared yesterday that she only desires to get out of jail long enough to marry young Holly.
It is expected that police from Oakland will arrive today. They were notified of the arrest of the two, and instructions were wired here to hold them pending the arrival of detectives.

MIDWINTER NUMBER.

The Midwinter Number of the Times, to be published on January 1, will fully sustain the reputation earned by these special numbers of the Times, during the past twenty years. It will contain a mass of reliable information concerning Los Angeles and Southern California, presented in attractive, readable form. The number will consist of six or seven bound magazine parts, similar in form to the Sunday Times Magazine, aggregating over 200 pages. In addition to the regular news sheets, there will be fifty full-page illustrations.

It is unnecessary to say that this is an exceptional opportunity for advertisers desiring to reach the eyes of the thousands of people sent to the mountains, who are hungry for information about Southern California. No display advertisements for the Midwinter Number can be read after December 26, and no advertisements of any kind after December 27.

THE AMERICAN FARMER.

The report of the Secretary of Agriculture, made up for the President's use in preparing his annual message to Congress, estimates that there are about 6,000,000 farms in the United States. The estimated value of all farm products for the current year, Secretary Wilson foots up at $5,900,000,000. These figures show an increase of $500,000,000 over the previous year, and are a gain of $2,000,000,000 since the census report for 1900 was taken. Secretary Wilson has been the best Secretary of Agriculture the country has yet had. He is an elaborately schooled farmer himself, having been educated in the College of Agriculture in Iowa. He has seen, since he left that institution, a wonderful evolution in American farming and in the well-being of American farmers. One of the new agricultural industries built up almost entirely since that time is the production of sugar beets and of sugar from the crop. This crop now ranks ninth in the account of the American farmer and brings in a gross revenue to the grower of $34,000,000. Seven years ago the sugar beet producers received only $7,000,000. A great many new plants and fruits have been introduced during the time that Secretary Wilson has been at the head of this bureau.

The report points out that wheat is only fourth as an earner of income for the farmer. It is surpassed in this respect by, first, corn; second, cotton, and third by hay. Of course if to the hay crop were added the value of grazing lands, probably grass would lead all other crops in the country as a producer of revenue.

SIXTY MILLIONS A YEAR.

While the story now floating around to the effect that John D. Rockefeller's income is sixty million a year, has certain wheat earmarks about it, still, if the truth were known, the tale might not prove grossly exaggerated. It is quite possible that the Old King's income this year will reach the sixty million mark. It may even exceed it. Think of it. Two dollars a second, or something like that, is the way it figures out. It makes every other so-called rich man seem poor. What the banker does is a sort of sliding interest. They wish to be permitted to issue an emergency currency, so called, at the rate of 2 or 2 1/2 per cent. interest, with a provision for further issues at a continually rising rate of interest until finally 5 or 6 per cent. might be charged for the last issue under the proposed amendment to the banking law.

Conservative bankers are for the most part in favor of the plan proposed by the Secretary of the Treasury. They hold that if the currency may be issued by the banks upon the payment of 2 or 2 1/2 or even 3 per cent. it will not be in any sense an emergency currency. The banks can put out this issue at a normal rate of 5 or 6 per cent, and in times of comparative tightness at 8 or 10 per cent, while in times of real stringency they would receive all the way from 25 to 100 or perhaps 125 per cent. This low rate issue would undoubtedly be kept out all the time. The banks would be able to make money out of it by keeping the issue continually afloat, while venturesome or not entirely honest bankers would not hesitate to reap the profits possible under this arrangement.

Mr. Shaw's proposed currency would be a genuine emergency currency. The bankers would be obliged to pay interest fully equal to the normal rate in the market when money is comparatively easy and therefore it would be automatic, the funds being issued to relieve a congested state and retired immediately upon conditions returning to the normal.

WALL STREET AND THE TREASURY AGAIN.

The trickery of New York bankers (referred to the other day by Jacob Schiff) has impelled, perhaps one might say compelled, the Secretary of the Treasury once more to relieve the gamblers. The price of money on call had been forced up from 25 to 30 per cent, when Mr. Shaw consented to distribute to the banks of several cities the sum of $10,000,000, being about $1,000,000 for each of the cities.

The Secretary of the Treasury wisely placed this money in widely separated localities, thus preventing the manipulation of funds around the corner of Wall street and Broadway from turning their own trick quite as quickly as they usually do. It will take perhaps all of a fortnight for them to get their grasp upon this additional $10,000,000 and the up the money market again. Had it been placed near enough for them to reach it at once, this sum of money, large in the eyes of the average business man, would have lasted about as long as the proverbial cat with her claws cut off in Topeka.

The business men of the country have a very strong desire that Congress pass some amendment to the national banking law which would provide relief to this continued stringency in the money market. The President referred to the desirability of some action in his message to Congress, but he left all details as to how this is to be done to the consideration of the legislative body.

There are two plans proposed: one by the Secretary of the Treasury, allowing the banks to issue emergency currency by paying a tax of 5 or 6 per cent. while this currency is afloat. His idea is that this stiff tax would make it truly an emergency currency, forcing its retirement the moment that relief came to the money market in a natural way. The bankers of the country propose a somewhat different plan. It agrees with Secretary Shaw's in the main but differs in the amount of interest to be paid. What the

NOT A SKELETON, BUT — #### TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY.

And by the way, did any one notice through which door our good friend Lawson made his escape?

It makes any man mad to see his name misspelled in the columns of his favorite newspaper, but it makes a musician simply furious.

Down at Redondo the other day I sat on the big pier idly flipping my rather extensive collection of letters. Some "sensible" affair for me. The slipper, for saint or sinner, isn't much nowadays. Suggestive of age and falling powers of endurance, it receives little attention in these strenuous times. It is fast following its sturdy companion, the boot, into the wide domain of the has-beens. About the only thing left to vary the ordinary foot wear of the average man is the gum shoe of the politician.

THE INNOCENT BYSTANDER.

The "Useful" Gift.

With doubt I wait for Christmas Day. I think with shivers of the tree. Left from its boughs may idly say: "Some 'sensible' affair for me. Some bulky ring for my lady; Mayhap a sieve my coal to sift— Or, say, or hammer, I may needly want. I want no 'useful' Christmas gift. I think of it with much dismay; Each Christmas there is sure to be some useful thing in the array. To put a blight upon my glee; My ancient maiden aunt, she sends books that preach the praise of thrift.

Or rubber boots that reach my knee— I want no 'useful' Christmas gift. I want some stuff to throw away. I want that smacks of lunacy. A big bass drum that I can play. An elephant, a bumblebee. A clock with works gone on a spree. A railway switch that I may shift. Or any fool thing—C. O. D.

I want no 'useful' Christmas gift. Friends, hearken well to what I say: I think that you will catch my drift. Discard your common sense, I pray— I want no 'useful' Christmas gift. Safe.

"If I were sure the candy sold in that shop was pure and free from bacteria, I should be glad to get you a couple of pounds," says the scientific swain. "But in these days of reckless adulterations, I feel that I cannot take too many precautions to preserve your health and beauty."

The fair young thing, who has a normal candy appetite, coos a word of appreciation of his thoughtfulness. Next they approach a place where a soda fountain continues its glad work. "You are fond of soda and ice cream, are you not?" he asks.

"It isn't so filled with dangerous germs I would be happy to get you some."

This time she does not coo appreciatively, and they continue their homeward walk in silence. When he is leaving her, he bawls him out: "That janitor will put him out of business before he can unpack his sack."

PEOPLE OF THE STAGE.

A few days ago The Times outlined the arduous demands of the stage upon the local managers. Or, and will soon return to his ordinary field.

William Koth, the well-known manager of the Los Angeles Theatre, has been in the city for some time, and will soon return to his ordinary field.

John C. Currier, the manager of the State Bank, has been in the city for some time, and will soon return to his ordinary field.

Prof. M. B. White, the manager of the State Bank, has been in the city for some time, and will soon return to his ordinary field.

Elizabeth Wells, a child actress, has been in the city for some time, and will soon return to her ordinary field.

Another strange paradox exists in the great many persons who are attracted to the stage.

Novelists sit in the rain and wait for a story to come. The stage manager sits in the sun and waits for a story to come.

BIG RUSH TO REACH CRUDE.

Southern Fields Are Spotted With Rigs.

Many Companies Drilling in New Locations.

Big Demand for Oil Sends Prices Kiting.

BY L. C. BLAKESLEE.

The information recently given out that the Southern Pacific Company had offered 75 cents per barrel for 750,000 barrels of Texas fuel oil and had, even at this figure, succeeded in securing only a third of that amount, confirms the statement made here, but decried by interested parties, that the Southern Pacific is in sore need of fuel oil; and it simply serves to strengthen the California producer in his purpose to part with no more of his oil except at living prices.

It was a month ago that this statement of a shortage in the railroad's supply tanks was first made, and there was a well established rumor that at one time there was barely more than a day's supply ahead in the tanks. The Associated Oil Company, which furnishes the bulk of this oil, has been hard pressed to supply the required amount of 10,000 barrels per day, and the purchase of the surplus oil belonging to the Independent local field for 25 cents per barrel, and a million barrels on top of that at 27 1/2 cents, proves how much they do need oil.

When the contract between the Associated and the Southern Pacific was renewed a few months ago, the price was fixed at 25 cents, an advance over the old contract of 4 cents. The Associated was supplying oil on the contract, however, for which it paid the producer anywhere from 15 to 20 cents per barrel. Under the new contract, there would be no profit whatever to the Associated on the oil it buys from the Independent local field, unless some sort of an arrangement was made between itself and the railroad.

KEEP PRICES DOWN.

This has probably been done, as the very close relations existing between the two corporations are well known, and both are vitally interested in keeping the price down as low as possible. The railroad company can well afford, however, to pay 50 cents for California fuel oil at Bakersfield.

There is really no fear of any shortage in the supply in this State. There is little probability of this year's production being any less than that of last year, viz: 35,000,000 barrels. Of course, the large foreign contracts recently secured by California companies will take immense quantities of oil, but 35,000,000 barrels is not by any means the limit California's possible production. Not a field in the State produced to its full capacity last year, and that, too, the face of the matter, comparatively little development work. There will be no shortage. The Southern Pacific can get the fuel it needs to pay a fair price for it, but this, through its purchasing agent, the Associated, it does not yet seem to be willing to do.

On the other hand there does not appear at present to be an overproduction. No surplus stocks can be accumulated in any field in the State. In fact, the supply and demand seem to be just now so adjusted that a firm market with an upward tendency is inevitable.

Possibly more emphasis has been given the Southern Pacific Railway's position in the business than is warranted, but this concern is by far the largest consumer of fuel oil in the Coast, and through its agent, the Associated, has been for long time a determining factor in the market. This was made easier from the fact that there really was a considerable overproduction and this condition is the only one which would enable any corporation, no matter how powerful, to manipulate things for its own benefit. Whatever the past has been—however much the producer has lost in the past, three years of depression, they are on the eve of the "prosperous era" which they have been praying for so long.

SOUTHERN FIELDS.

Probably in no part of the State is the revival of business so noticeable as in the three so-called local fields—the Salt Lake, the Fullerton and the Whittier fields; and in all these there is remarkable activity as compared with a period extending over three years back.

The Salt Lake field, while probably it should as yet be referred to only as a pool, is being usually extended. No "gushers" have been brought in for several months past, but good substantial producers are found in almost all directions. The immense wells, which brought up the field's total production a year ago to something like 900 barrels per day, are a thing of the past, and while drilling has been prosecuted more vigorously ever since, that was the high water mark. About twenty-five wells have been added to the list of producers during that time, but the total output is less.

The Salt Lake Oil Company is still running about fifteen strings of tools. The western limits of the field seem to have been reached so far as practicability is concerned, the oil sand being so deep that the return is unprofitable, so work has been suspended, temporarily at least, in that direction. Some of the wells in this section of the field are 350 feet deep. The company is now devoting its attention toward the east, and is drilling at least a mile in advance of any developed territory on a tract lying northeast of its present producing property.

One of the officers of this company stated last week that they had just secured a contract for a substantial quantity of oil at 20 cents per barrel on the cars, which means about 85 cents at the well, so the assumption is that they can afford to wildcat to some extent.

PRIVATE OIL FIELD.

M. A. F. Gilmore, who owns 256 acres directly north of the original Salt Lake lease, is now running two strings, drilling on Nos. 5 and 6. Mr. Gilmore is the pioneer in this field, having drilled a well more than twenty years ago on his property. Owing to the crude methods then in vogue and the light material used, the well has since been amply demonstrated, as it is believed that his land lies in the center of the field. The 2500 barrel storage tank on this property built six months ago, has never had anything in it for oil. In fact there is no oil going into storage on any property in the district.

The Westland Oil Company, located on the Schumacher property, directly east of Gilmore, is drilling in Nos. 6 and 7, and is building a rig for No. 8. This company is owned by the Pacific Light and Power Company, and produces the oil for its own use, as is also the case in the Clark and Sherman Oil Company, still farther east. This company has ten producing wells and is running two or three strings.

The La Brea Ranch Oil Company owns a strip of land due east of Clark and Sherman, and is drilling its first well, which will be drilled as rapidly as possible. The territory here is about 1800-foot stuff, and the wells start off at about 120 to 200 barrels, settling down into 75 or 100 barrel producers.

Nothing in paying quantities has as yet been developed south of the Salt Lake's original lease, except the few shallow holes drilled several years ago by Pitcher and Garbutt. These wells are still pumped and produce a little oil, but attempts by the Union Oil Company to locate a productive sand below this has proven unfruitful, although the drill has been sent down to the 320-foot level.

It was in this neighborhood that the Cornwell Oil Company operated in the early days, and when the great bunc scheme in which the Cornwell Consolidated Oil Company, now one of the substantial Kern River concerns, had its birth, it is an interesting story, and will bear repeating at some future time.

The above named concerns are the only ones operating in this field, still it presents a very animated scene, and even at this time, the drilling going on in fields many times larger in extent and of greater producing power. This field's accessibility to markets makes it a product sought after by consumers. Aside from the local market, outside shipments are being made on account of the pipe line which connects the field with the railroad.

The old city field is on its last legs, and there is little mourning except among a few well owners who still cling to the little oil they can still squeeze out of the ground. The present advance in oil has deflected the attention of the city, but they will disappear in time.

AT FULLERTON.

While only nine companies are operating in what is called the Fullerton field (embracing the Olinda-Brea Cañon districts) still it presents a remarkably lively appearance. The Columbia Oil Producing Company still takes the lead as far as individual producers are concerned, its company's No. 12 still pouring out between ten and twelve hundred barrels per day. For the first twenty days, as near as the gaugers could get at it, the well produced 26,000 barrels, and it is still keeping this rate up. While it did not start off at the rate some other wells in the field have, it is the most consistent of the large producers, and promises to be a "stay" work on this company's No. 14 is progressing favorably.

The Fullerton Oil Company, of which the Columbia owns a half interest, is running two strings of tools on its property in the eastern end of the field. The oil here is of the lighter gravity and is used by the company in its refinery, where it is made into distillate and other products. The Puente is the most powerful competitor for the Standard Oil Company has in Southern California.

The Fullerton Oil Company, aside from operating its lease in the Olinda field proper, has secured a tract in Brea Cañon near the Menges Oil Company's property, and is drilling a test well. The territory in this neighborhood is well tested and a good well is assured if the sand is reached.

The Graham-Lofthus Oil Company is also drilling a well within a stone's throw of the Fullerton Oil Company's property. The face of the matter, commenced work on its No. 2, and the Brea Cañon Oil Company is drilling a well close by to the south. The latter is unusually active. It is stated that the Crown of the Valley Oil Company, composed of Eastern and Western interests, will resume work on its property in the cañon in the near future. About six years ago a prospect hole was drilled, but nothing came of the venture. The same parties were back of the Edison Oil Company, also adjoining the Brea Cañon Company's property, and there is also some talk of beginning another well here.

EDWARD PARSON CUT THROAT WITH A RAZOR IN AN EFFORT TO END HIS LIFE.

Edward Parson, a Southern Pacific employe, lies in the Receiving Hospital suffering from a self-inflicted wound from which he may die. Parson tried to commit suicide by cutting his throat yesterday morning. He was unsuccessful, though he completely severed his windpipe. He was found in his room at No. 58 Ceres avenue. He had a razor in his hand and presented a horrible sight.

There is a chance that Parson will recover, but a wound in his throat was closed and sewn. Unless he contracts pneumonia there is a possibility that he will pull through. The Swede showed wonderful nerve when placed on the operating table. He took no anesthetic while the wound was sewn, though it was necessary to take fifty stitches in the jagged edges of the cut.

is destined to be one of the greatest fields of the entire Coast.

AT WHITTIER. This field, while not being extended very rapidly, still shows considerable activity within the defined limits. The Central Oil Company, which has attracted considerable attention on the stock market recently, is the largest concern in the field. It owns several thousands of acres, only part of which, however, is probably productive. At present all the drilling in this property, with the exception of the test well on section 15, about two miles in advance of present developments, is being done in sure territory. The company recently placed a block of stock on the market, the proceeds from which were to be applied in development work. It is the intention of the officers to drill forty wells as rapidly as they can be put down, and with that end in view they are now running five strings of tools, which will be increased as soon as rigs can be built.

The Murphy Oil Company also has commenced drilling again here after nearly a year's shut-down. The company is still devoting much attention to the development of the field, which caused considerable excitement recently. The big well reported to have been drilled in the field, and which is carried down to the oil sand before an attempt is made to shut it off. This is a dangerous policy, as the present instance may result in ruining not only this well, but many more which may be drilled.

WELLS, MORE WELLS. The Whittier Crude Oil Company is making preparations to drill several more wells on its property and active work will be commenced immediately after the first of the year.

The Turner Oil Company, the Fidelity and the Whittier-Fillmore companies are each drilling one well, as is also the Warner Oil Company. The Home Oil Company is getting ready to drill a deep well on its property.

Most of the oil in this field also is handled by the Union Oil Company, but both the Central and Murphy oil companies have pipe lines to their storage tanks and loading racks at Los Nietos and market much of their own oil.

There is no surplus oil in this field and the quality of the product makes it much in demand.

QUICK FUND CAMPAIGN. Young Women's Christian Association Lays Plans to Raise Money for the New Building.

The Young Women's Christian Association will begin a quick, lively campaign February 1 for funds for the new building, and ere that month has passed they hope to have in sight all of the $10,000 that will be needed. The Campaign Committee will go forth to the public and present the cause as eloquently that few will be able to resist, every member of the Ways and Means Committee having special plans up her sleeve to appeal to the people's purse in the campaign season.

Yesterday Mrs. W. C. Patterson entertained the official board of the association, which with Miss Cora L. Tatham, constituted the Campaign Committee, with a delightful luncheon at Hotel Helmsman, where amid the flowers and the good things to eat the women discussed just how this matter of getting the money for their home should be managed.

The Ways and Means Committee, composed of Mrs. W. C. Patterson, Mrs. W. C. Callender, Mrs. Oliver C. Bryant, Mrs. E. E. Smith, Mrs. Chester, Mrs. Leonard Merrill and Miss Tatham, presented their plans to the board members, and the decision was to begin to put matters into motion, and quick, decided motion at that, February 1, a fine new song for the fund was started at the luncheon.

The students at Huntington Hall, who are preparing for Bryn Mawr, Vassar, Wellesley and Smith, have little time for social functions, save those of an informal nature. The library, drawing-room and dining-room were decorated in roses and smilax. The ballroom was gay with school banners, festoons of smilax, ferns and trailing vines. Between dances light refreshments were served in the lounge-room, furnished with oriental draperies and Indian wares, lighted with Roman candles. Promptly at 11:30, mid strains of song familiar college and university students and military youths sang good-night.
